SOME KEY TAKEAWAYS

A CLEAR CHANNEL STRATEGY IS KEY

- Clarity is absolutely essential.
- Value or Quality? Locational bias? Occasions to defend and win? Sub-channel nuances?
- Are your brand strategies coherent with your customer segmentation, commercial planning and sales function?
- Do local sales KPI's for brands and portfolios dovetail with central brand development goals?
- Are local sales KPI's owned at the highest level to ensure support and accountability?

INVEST…BUT CHOOSE WISELY

- Brands can be made or lost with a resurgent On Premise, but mistakes are expensive
- You can't invest in everything…test the most important levers for your brands and invest narrowly
- Support your customers to help drive footfall and rate of sale/average spend per visit
- Cleaning and re-segmenting your On Premise CRM now will pay dividends

EARN TRIAL AND ADVOCACY

- Re-assess your category and brand strength for the On Premise consumer. Do consumers like your brands as much as you think they do.
- Who is advocating for your brands in-venue?
- What else is influencing their decisions in-venue?
- Bartender training and activations work well when delivered well. They must form part of a coherent, long term, advocacy program though.
